The Inland Children's Chorus will present two concerts Sunday afternoon at the Art Institute, the first at 2:30 p.m. and the second at 4:30 p.m.

The programs are part of the regular Sunday afternoon winter-spring series co-sponsored by the Dayton Area Chamber and the Art Institute. Admission is free.

The chorus of 100 voices, 50 boys and girls, is directed by Joseph P. Geiger. Paul Ray Jones is accompanist.

The chorus will sing Agt's "Ave Maria," Hahn's "The Green Cathedral," Monk-Wilson's "Abide With Me," Abt's "A Forest Ramble," a Slavic folk song "Home Bound Rangers."

Denza's "Funiculi, Funicula," Anderson's "The Syncopated Clock," and "Sleigh Ride," Mercer's "I'm an Old Cowhand," and Steele's "America, Our Heritage."
